WELCOME

Are you a fan of the finer things in life, and of understatement too? The great outdoors and fresh air are as important to you as art and culture? The Radisson Blu Park Royal Palace Hotel has it all. Take time out from your sightseeing or business schedule for a relaxing stroll through the grounds of nearby Schönbrunn Palace, or draw inspiration from the spirit of innovation and exhibits to be found at the Museum of Technology right next door to the hotel. The historic city centre, where art, culture and world-class shopping await, is easily reached thanks to the nearby underground station.

MEETING ROOMS

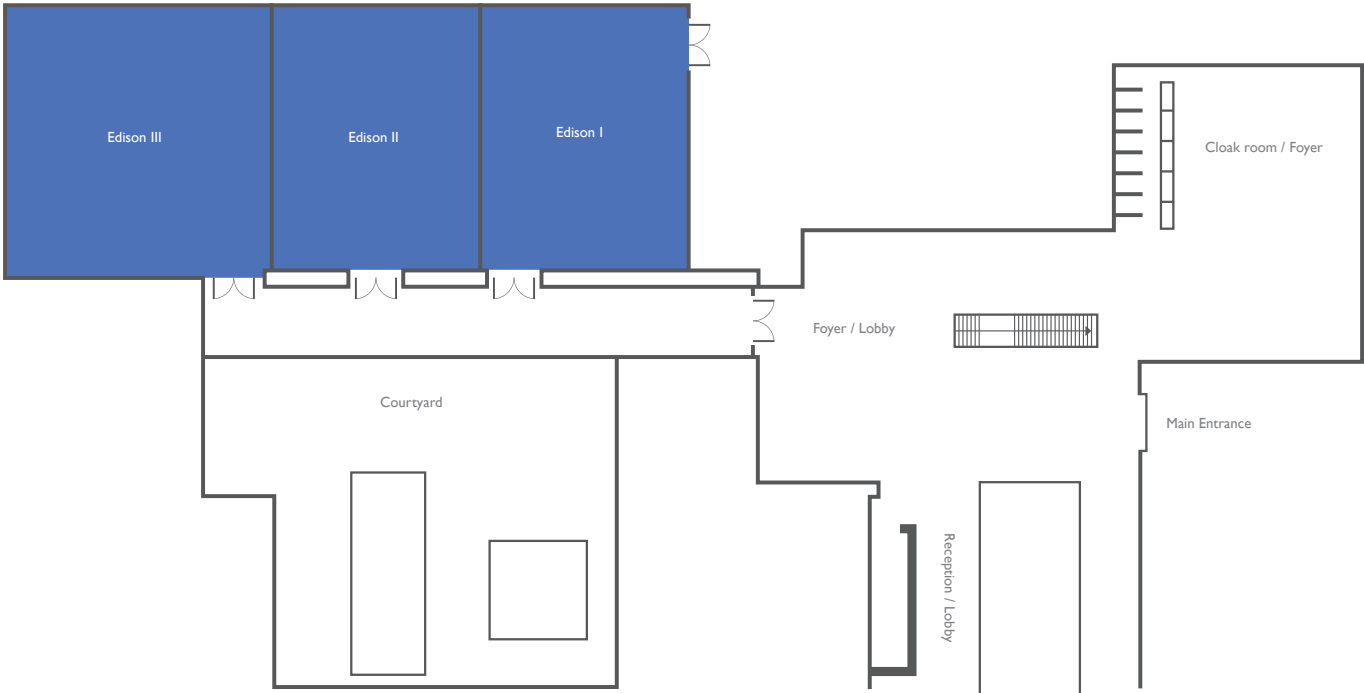

A stimulating environment that still has plenty of space for new ideas: host your meeting, conference or event in one of our 9 fully equipped seminar rooms. Ideal layouts and flexible partitioning mean that nothing stands in the way of your event's success – whatever form it takes. A ballroom (total size 606 m² - three rooms) with a total capacity of 500 people, along with the other modern seminar rooms, will make your conference an unforgettable event.

ROOMS & SUITES

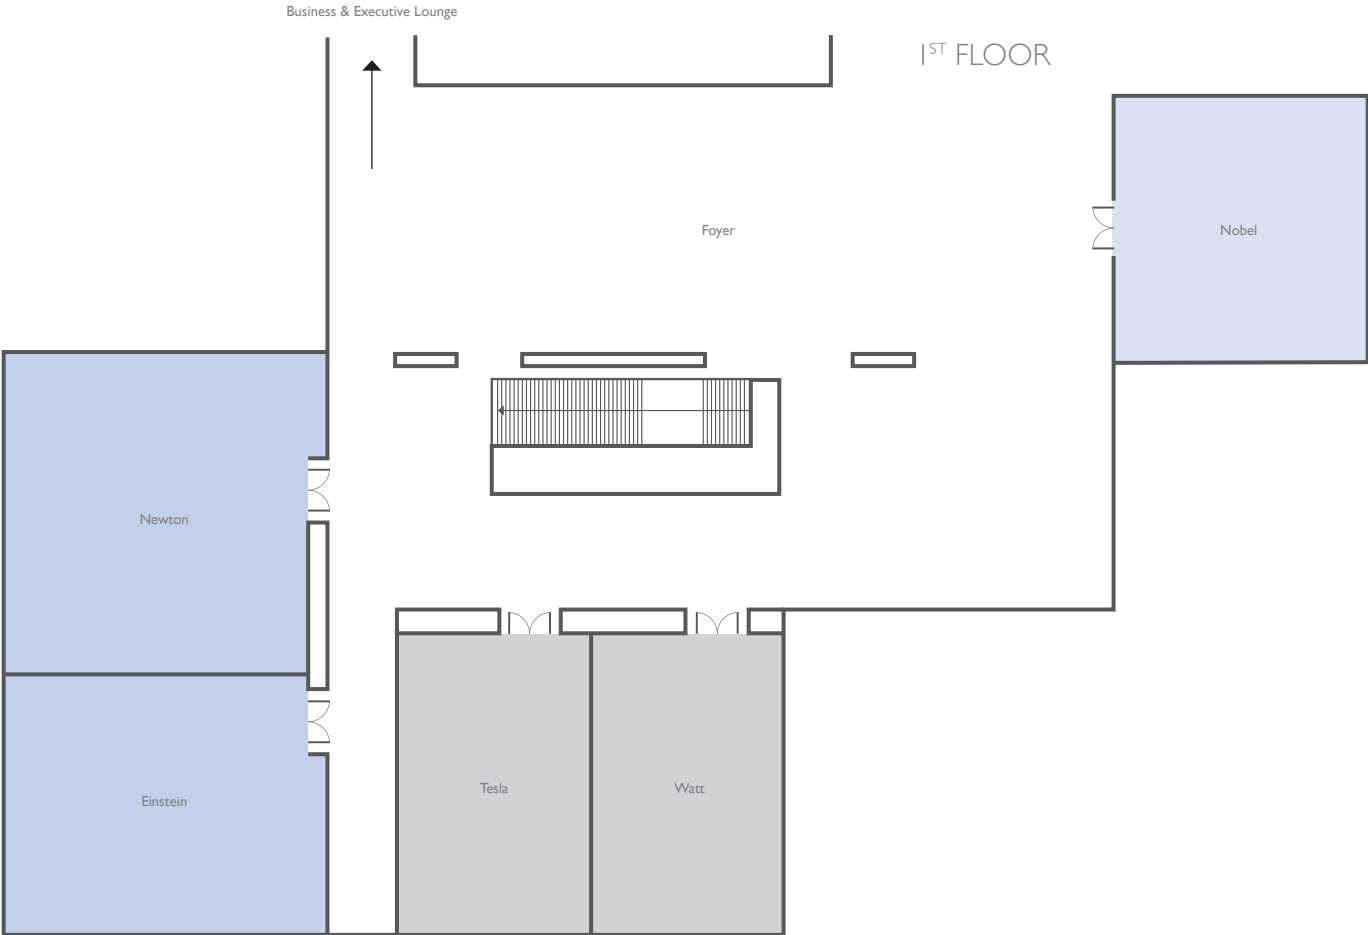

Choose from 176 Superior Guest Rooms, 36 Business Class Rooms, 14 One Bedroom Suites and 7 One Bedroom Executive Suites. Our exclusive rooms are a true delight: noble Zebrano timber contrasts with sand-coloured elements, creating a beautiful visual effect in natural and indirect lighting. They also include fantastic views over Schönbrunn Palace or the hotel park. Additionally, all rooms feature top-class amenities, including high-speed internet, flat-screen televisions and much more.

A true highlight of Radisson Blu Park Royal Palace Hotel is Suite no. 455 – the “Sarkissova Suite”. Karina Sarkissova was a solo dancer with the Wiener Staatsoper ballet company and acts as an “ambassador” for the hotel (lending her name and face to the hotel and the Sarkissova Suite). The ballet theme is present throughout the suite – ballet shoes and a ballet barre and mirror are provided to let you try a few dance steps.
